His Catalogue confifts of a great Number of many good Books, and of. as few bad as any Study that hath been exposed to Sale by Austion, and hath the advantage of curious binding, and generally of the best Editi-Mr. Skinner's produces a fair (how of most of our English Historians ancient and modern, in the several Languages they have been Writ, and contains a compleat Set of the best Books of the Law, which was his Profession: besides a great many foreign Histories and French Pleadings, and Laws of other Nations; of all which he made a good use, in attaining an exquisite sound Judgment, and most comprehensive knowledge of the English Laws. Besides these, be Collected many other Authors of use to a general Schollar, which his Books in Divinity, Claffick Authors, numbers of ufeful Lexicons speak him to be; who was fo well acquainted with every Book in his Study, wherein he Ipent too much time, with greater delight, then conveniency to his health. This is an exact Catalogue of all his Books be left when he Died, together with some Law-Books that he made use of, as common place Books with his own large, and painful, additions and Judicious References in the Margin, which makes them of greater value then the Books themselves, which may be seen in Roll's Abridgment, Cook on Littleton, Yelverton's Reports, &c. With Annotations on several other Law-Books, and others contained in this Collection.
